

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOLUME X.—NUMBER 40.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1881.

WHOLE NUMBER 508.

A Key to Editorial Expressions.

An attentive reader of newspapers can see a great deal more than is set down on the printed page. For instance, an expression common in these days of nominations is: "While a portion of the ticket is not such as we should have nominated, we shall give it our hearty support." This means that the editor's most bitter enemy, who will give the printing to the other paper if he can, is on the ticket, and the editor hopes that the low down reptile may be beaten out of sight. In the case of distinguished orators, the remark: "The Hon. Mr. Blank was taken with sudden indisposition and did not speak," means that the venerated statesman was too drunk to hold his head up. The observation means the same thing when applied to the lights of the American stage. "We failed to catch the last words of the speech" means that the eloquence at the critical period was drowned in "budge." "We regret that we have not space to publish the gentleman's eloquent effort in full," means that, in the editor's opinion, the speech would have made a reflective man leave his seat, and that it would be an outrage on the public to print it. "We may refer to the address hereafter," means that the newspaper men feel happy at getting out of this time, and trust that perdition may swallow him if he ever mentions the matter again. "Involuntary notices" (congestion of the brain), when applied to a gentleman of easy views in regard to drinks, means delirium tremens and "He was his own worst enemy," means that the deceased was a drunkard, and the worst enemy of the people who loaned him money. "He had his faults, and of us has not," is an equivalent expression. In regard to performances, dramatic, and otherwise, "Those who failed to be present missed a rich treat" means that everybody "failed." "The audience was small but appreciative" means that nobody was present except the holders of complimentary. "Owing to the inclemency of the weather the audience was not what it would have been," means that no body would have been there had the sky been as clear as crystal, and the "neighborhood" fanned by the spicy breezes," according to the hymn book, "blow soft over Ceylon's isle." "In the way of domestic criticism," "Mr. Munroe shows some crudity and imperfections," which will doubtless disappear with time and study" means that Mr. M. is a hopeless and irredeemable stick. Finally, "A scandal in high life has been brought to our notice, of which we shall have more to say in a few days," that means—well, that means "business." (Athletic) (Kas) Champion.

A Matrimonial Consideration.

A matrimonial matter has been made public in Montreal by some legal proceedings. A retired Major of the British army had four daughters, who moved in good society in that city. They all entered into correspondence with a retired clergyman of London, whose mind was somewhat enfeebled, but who enjoyed an income of $15,000. The letters became sentimental all round, and at length the man proposed marriage. But which of the four should he take? He had never seen any of them, and it was arranged that each should send a photograph to guide him in his choice. Now, the oldest was a widow at forty-five, and therefore the younger and prettier ones were assumed when the decision was promptly announced that their sister was to be the bride. The truth was that she had employed an artist to remove the hard lines and otherwise beautify the picture. But this trick did not help her. When she went to London and presented herself to the clergyman he could see no likeness between her and the fraudulent portrait, and refused to marry her. He gave her $5,000, and she went home. But she does not consider that sum a sufficient compensation, and has sued for damages. (Buffalo Express).

The Credit System in the South.

We have time and time again advised against the credit system. Our planters and farmers, however, cling to it with wonderful tenacity. Year after year they mortgage their crops and pay, in one way or another, at least fifty per cent, for money to make their crops. How do they expect to become prosperous while they submit to such a drain as this? When they settle with their merchants at the end of the year they are generally in debt. At most they have only a few dollars to show for their year's work. They had much better cultivate one-half or one-quarter as many acres, and conduct their farming on a cash basis. Planters and farmers will get a good many ideas at the Atlanta Exposition which will be of benefit to them. (Vicksburg) (Miss) Herald.

Nymphs.

Slight pain in the side, the skin and eyes assume a thick yellow coat, digestion is impaired, an unpleasant sinking sensation at the pit of the stomach is experienced, the bowels are irregular, the mind, full of the memory of weakness, sometimes slight enough, coldness of the hands and feet, sometimes loss of appetite and at others unsatiable craving for food, dizziness of the head, blurring before the eyes, depressed spirits, bad breath, falling of uncertainty of having left something undone but can't tell what it is. Take Simmons Liver Regulator, it will remove all these feelings and make you well.

A hen is a most inconsiderate and unaccountable creature.

Now that she can lay eggs worth three cents apiece, she takes a vacation and refuses to have anything to do with business. By and by, when chickens are so down to fifteen cents a dozen, she will put on extra help and even work nights to flood the market. The hen is no financier. (Springfield Union).

For general purposes on the farm, castor oil, with a little kerosene added, is the best lubricator and preserver.

For saws, saws, buggies, etc., it furnishes more lubrication, and it is more reliable than kerosene. If any is to be added, must be governed by the purpose for which it is designed.

A Western Casablanca.

Yesterday afternoon a small lad rode up and down the streets trying to sell a little jackass which he was riding. "How much for this beautiful jackass?" he shouted, at which those along the street gave a broad smile. "Is he gentle?" asked a horseman. "Just like a sheep," said the boy, and a moment later the animal landed him clear into the crowd. "Ain't he awful funny," remarked the boy as he got up. Dad learned him that trick," and there was a smile on his face that would have done credit to a criminal. "Oh, he's a daisy," continued the lad; "full of vinegar and spirit; can't tire him out."

Here the animal gave the lad a kick in the stomach and keeled him in the mud.

"Always trying to show off before a crowd; I learned him that trick for the fair," continued the lad, trying to suppress his tears.

Nobody wanted the jackass and the boy, mounting, rode to the next corner, where about the same performance was repeated.

All day long he rode up and down the street, extolling the gentle qualities of the jackass and picking himself up from the mud every time he was pitched off. He stood up to the racket with as much fortitude as Casablanca on the deck of the burning ship until he finally got a bid of $3 for the jackass. This seemed to entirely flatten out the boy's grit. He was thrown from the jackass for the last time, and, turning homeward, left the animal in the street, as he remarked:

"Have I been tryin' all day and wrestlin' with the mud for a three-dollar mule? I wouldn't go through such a deal again for Shaugnessy's big trotter!" (Salt Lake Tribune).

Chicken Hatching by Electricity.

The chicken hatching machine in the Electrical Exhibition deserves celebration as well as other electrical contrivances. It is an ordinary egg hatching machine, in which the heat is regulated by a thermometer, the surface of the mercury in which, as it rises or falls, acts by electric wires and a magnet upon a ventilator, which opens as soon as the heat rises to 104 degrees, and shuts when it begins to fall too low. It has been observed that machine hatched chickens suffer from loneliness, and do not so well as those who have a mother's constant voice, and so the ingenious proprietor of this machine is now constructing a telephone which will connect to his henless chicks, scattered in different cages about a party of friends, the clicking of a central hen. It is a benevolent idea, and if he would go a little further, and discover a way of "laying on" maternal care to the poor featherless chicks that are so often sent abandoned in the stationary machines called perambulators, yet greater would be his board that he has not lived in vain. (St. James Gazette).

How to Live to Old Age.

There was the eighty-fourth anniversary of Thurlow Weed's birthday, and he entertained a large party of friends. In speaking of his life, he said:

"When I was a painter, in my earlier days, I was an abstainer from all beverages supposed to be intoxicating, even from beer. This was not because I regarded total abstinence as a virtue; but because I had no taste for drink. I used to see my fellow-workmen take their beer, and I never thought it my business to find fault with them because they liked it and I didn't. In later years I became an inveterate smoker, and the caricatures of me always represented me with a big cigar in my mouth. I never used tobacco in any other form. About twelve years ago I had a spell of sickness, and when I was getting well my physician advised me to leave off smoking. I have not smoked since. In fact, I have felt no desire for tobacco since. For a number of years I have taken a little wine with my dinner."

Watch Carefully Your Health.

Are your hands and feet cold? Does your pulse beat irregularly? Does your heart quicken palpitate at the least exertion, worriment or nervous excitement? Does your face often flush from a rush of blood to the head? Are you troubled with dyspepsia, indigestion, or some urinary disorder? Beware! Death may be at any time suddenly ensue from apoplexy. Do not delay. Your system needs some true medicinal tonic. Nothing is so good as Brown's Iron Bitters. This excellent remedy will assist nature in quickly regaining her lost hold on health and life. It strengthens every part of the system, and restores the different organs of life to their normal condition. In diseases of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to weaken both mind and body, it invariably acts like a charm. (Journal).

To PERFUME NOTE-PAPEE, ETC.—Get a few quarties of blotting-paper and sprinkle the sheets with the perfume; then put the blotting-paper under a weight until it becomes dry. When dry, put note-paper, envelopes, etc., between the sheets, and place them under a weight for a few hours; remove them and they will be found perfumed. The blotting sheets can be made to retain their perfume a long time by keeping them free from exposure to air.

A new puzzle is to find the letter M three times on a legal tender silver dollar. To many persons it will prove a great deal harder puzzle to find the dollar itself.

The Auditor in his forthcoming report estimates the cost of the Legislature to meet next Monday, at $100,000, and appropriations at $150,000.

From Washington to Mahone. This is Virginia's bitter experience. From Jefferson to Riddleberger. What a fall. (Frankfort Yeoman).

A man never feels poor when he has a ten dollar bill to wrap on the outside of his roll of ones.

A lady of Marshall, Alabama, fifty-eight years old, is cutting teeth.

Gen. Lee's Last Order.

Senator G. G. Vest has presented to the Missouri Historical Society the original of the last order of Gen. Lee to his soldiers after the surrender. It reads as follows:— "HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF NORTHERN VIRGINIA, April 10, 1865.—Gen. Orders, No. 9. After four years of arduous services, marked by unsurpassed courage and fortitude, the army of Northern Virginia has been compelled to yield to overwhelming numbers and resources.

I need not tell the brave survivors of so many hard fought battles, who have remained steadfast to the last, that I have commended to this result from no distrust to them; but feeling that valor and devotion could accomplish nothing that would compensate for the loss that must have attended the continuance of the contest, I determined to avoid the useless sacrifice of those whose past services have endeared them to their countrymen.

By the terms of the agreement officers and men can return to their homes and remain until exchanged. You will take with you the satisfaction that proceeds from the consciousness of duty faithfully performed, and I earnestly pray that a merciful God will extend to you His blessing and protection.

With an increasing admiration of your constancy and devotion to your country, and a grateful remembrance of your kind and generous consideration for myself, I bid you all an affectionate farewell.

R. E. LEE, General.

Get to Be Perfect.

In Germany a ship has been built which makes nine knots an hour, worked entirely by hydraulics, and is regarded as a giant stride in the march of improvements. It is certainly a great thing, if there are none of those everlasting points about it that are "yet to be perfected." These points have knocked the stuffing out of some of the greatest inventions of the world. Keely's motor was invented years ago, and a railroad train was to run from New York to Philadelphia with only a pint of oil and a gill of water, but a few points had to be perfected, and there it has stuck ever since. When a vessel crosses the Atlantic, bringing a thousand German emigrants, with no other power than a cheap boy pouring a cup of water now and then into a molasses-funnel, then we shall believe in the hydraulic engine, and the man who invented it can come and get our hat. (Peck's Sun).

Stays them for the Grass.

STURGEVILLE, Ohio, May 23, 1881.— Please send me at once one gross of your most excellent medicinal tonic, Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used them in my broods and reasonably intelligent chambermaids in a land where the average of wages is from $20 to $25 per month should result in a movement by those interested to supply the market. There are a good number of respectable young women in the East to whom $25 per month would be an inducement to come West, and there are not a few well-trained colored servants in Virginia who would eagerly accept such wages. Perhaps if some of my Eastern exchanges will copy this paragraph an immigration may be started in this direction which will relieve the scarcity. (Denver Inter Ocean).

Celluloid is made from the cellulose obtained in cotton cloth or raw cotton. The cotton is treated to a weak solution of nitric acid. This has the effect of making pulp of cotton very much like paper pulp. After the acid has acted the pulp is treated to a copious water-bath that in a large measure washes out the acid. Then it goes through a partial drying process, and a large quantity of camphor gum is mixed with it, and it is rolled into sheets, ready for the drying-room when it is dried on hot cylinders, the same as paper is dried. It can be softened by steam, but hardens again when it is dry. Celluloid, when ready for the market, burns as readily as ordinary sealing-wax.

The largest specimen of the century plant in existence is said to be owned by Mr. Fred. Engelhardt, in Kenosha, Wis. It is in the care of a family to whom it was presented about thirty years ago, when it was between thirty and forty years old. It is about to bloom for the first time. The plant is about twenty feet in diameter, the leaves being from eight to eleven feet long.

A letter preserved in the New York Historical Society has the following sentence in it: "My son's wife is lately dead, and is very much lamented by all who knew her. I could have wished, had it pleased God, that her mother-in-law, who is ripe for the other world, had gone before her."

The manure produced by sawdust when used as a bedding for horses is said to be a better fertilizer for garden crops than any other. When mixed with the soil in which celery is grown, it is said to greatly benefit those plants.

Loss of memory, universal lassitude, pain in the back, premature old age promptly cured with Brown's Iron Bitters. It restores lost functions and strengthens the weakened parts.

Miss Laura L. White, of Manchester, sister to Hon. John D. White, has opened an office in Washington City for the practice of her profession, architecture.

A new puzzle is to find the letter M three times on a legal tender silver dollar. To many persons it will prove a great deal harder puzzle to find the dollar itself.

The Auditor in his forthcoming report estimates the cost of the Legislature to meet next Monday, at $100,000, and appropriations at $150,000.

From Washington to Mahone. This is Virginia's bitter experience. From Jefferson to Riddleberger. What a fall. (Frankfort Yeoman).

A man never feels poor when he has a ten dollar bill to wrap on the outside of his roll of ones.

A lady of Marshall, Alabama, fifty-eight years old, is cutting teeth.

Corrected Pronunciations.

A correspondent in Buffalo, N. Y., asks us to correctly pronounce several words, as follows:

Bronchitis is correctly pronounced bron-tiss, not bron ka tis, as some people persist in pronouncing it.

Asthma is not pronounced asthma, as many people think and speak, but asma.

Tucson, the capital of Arizona, is correctly pronounced To son, the c being silent.

Tijera, a Spanish-Mexican name, is pronounced Te-hay-an.

Florida is correctly pronounced Flo-ree-da.

Arkansas, by declaration of her State Legislature, is pronounced Ark-an-saw.

Pinos is Pe-nos, signifying pines.

Bijou is properly pronounced bi-zho, signifying a jewel.

Conejos is the name of a county in Colorado, and its pronunciation is Co-nah-so.

Gaudalupa, a river in Spain, is pronounced Wah-da-lo-pa.

San Jose is correctly pronounced Sano-za.

Suite, for suite of rooms, is correctly pronounced snite or "sweet," as the utterance prefers.

Neither is nee-ther or ni-ther, as a person accepts the American or the English rule.

San Juan is pronounced San-Wan.

Joquin (Miller) is pronounced Wa-keen. (Great West).

Applause for Romeno and Juliet.

Do you suppose for one moment that a youth who is perhaps earning twenty-five or thirty-five dollars per month, and who has had little perhaps, or no, experience in society, is fitted to become a husband?
Why, the question is absurd, and doesn't admit of argument. On the other hand, is a school girl, who has not yet tasted the pleasures that balls, parties and social assemblies afford, fitted to shoulder the responsibilities of a mother? Children who want to get married are crazy, and they should be treated like crazy people. My plan is for every State in the Union to be provided with a law asylum, offered by efficient and honorable persons, selected by the Governor. The asylum should be sustained by taxation. When young people are determined to marry, one, or both, of them should be confined in the asylum until they have entirely recovered from the determination. (New Orleans Times).

Stays them for the Grass.

STURGEVILLE, Ohio, May 23, 1881.— Please send me at once one gross of your most excellent medicinal tonic, Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used them in my broods and reasonably intelligent chambermaids in a land where the average of wages is from $20 to $25 per month should result in a movement by those interested to supply the market. There are a good number of respectable young women in the East to whom $25 per month would be an inducement to come West, and there are not a few well-trained colored servants in Virginia who would eagerly accept such wages.
Perhaps if some of my Eastern exchanges will copy this paragraph an immigration may be started in this direction which will relieve the scarcity. (Denver Inter Ocean).

I am fully convinced that the soul is indestructible, and that its activity will continue through eternity. It is like the sun which, to our eyes, seems to set in night; but it has in reality only gone to diffuse its light elsewhere. (Goethe).

The managers of the K. C. R. R. are now in this country locating the road from here to Winchester. There is now no doubt but this line will be built. We are looking to it with pleasure. (Berkson Sun).

The correspondent who wrote from Saratoga that "Miss A. has the faintest feeling of any belle here," had to leave town suddenly when the paper, arrived with the superlative adjective changed to "distant."

The next House of Representatives will be composed of 146 Republicans, 137 Democrats, two Re-adjusters, eight Greenbackers, and one Independent, who is expected to vote with the Republicans.

A Colorado item, "Arizona Jack," one of the type of dime novel heroes that are entirely too common, attempted to "run the town," and is now running a small lot in the cemetery.

We like the sheriff, and always have had a kindly feeling for him, but we don't want the sheriff or any other union of the law to have an attachment for us. (Steunhove Herald).

"There are archaic families," says the Examining Committee of the Boston Public Library in its latest report, "in which the Old Testament is a forbidden book to be young."

It is not considered the proper thing to say "whip the devil around the stump."
The new phrase is "lash the chief dignity of hades around the cartiled tree."

Ireland has 7,000,000 acres of drainable land, and a company has been formed in London to drain this land under the Irish land act.

During October of this year there were landed in this country 76,061 passengers, of whom 67,929 were immigrants.

A man can possibly have no affection for rheumatism, and yet he will do almost anything for it.

The Republicans have a majority of more than three to one in the Kentucky penitentiary.

Human nature is so constructed that all see and judge better in the affairs of others.

The lover who pressed his suit was perhaps a tailor or a clothes-cleaner.

What five letters form a sentence of forgiveness? I s q u e.

STH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Times of Holding Court and Circuit Courts.

We are frequently asked when a certain Court is held, and at the suggestion of a friend, we answer a hundred questions by publishing the following:
BOYLE—County Court, 3d Monday, Circuit Court, 2d Monday in February, 2d days and 3d in September, 12 days.
CANTY—County Court, 4th Monday, Circuit Court, 2d Monday in June, 15 days; and Thursday after 2d Monday in December, 9 days.
GARARD—County Court, 4th Monday, Circuit Court, 4th Mondays in January and August; 15 days each term.
LINCOLN—County Court, 1st Monday, Circuit Court, 3d Monday in March, 2d days and 4th Monday in October, 15 days.
POLK—County Court, 2d Monday, Circuit Court, 2d Monday in April and 1st Monday in October, 15 days each.
RICKS—County Court, 4th Monday, Circuit Court, 2d Mondays in January and August; 12 days each term.
RUSSELL—County Court, 2d Monday, Circuit Court, 4th Monday in May, 12 days, and 1st Monday in December, 9 days.
WAYNE—County Court, 4th Monday, Circuit Court, 2d Monday in May and 4th Monday in November, 12 days each term.

PROFESSIONAL.

H. C. KAUFFMAN,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

LANCASTER, KY.

Master Commissioner and County Attorney. Will practice in all the Courts of Garland and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals. (400-177)

FRANK WOLFORD, MATTHEW PEYTON,

F. L. WOLFORD & M. PEYTON,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

LANCASTER, KY.

Special Attorneys given to collections. Office over R. T. Pierce's store. (400-177)

THOMAS P. HILL, JR.,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

STANFORD, KY.

Will practice in the Courts of this and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals. Office on Lancaster Street. (440-177)

JAMES G. GIVENS,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

LOUISVILLE, - - - KENTUCKY.

Practices in all the Courts. Collections promptly made. (440-177)

J. S. & R. W. HOCKER,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

STANFORD, KY.

Office over McAllister & Lytle's Store.

T. W. VARNON, WALLACE VARNON,

T. W. & W. E. VARNON,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW,

STANFORD, KY.

Office in Court Square.

LEE F. HUFFMAN,

SURGEON DENTIST,

STANFORD, KY.

Office—South side Main Street, two doors above the Myers Hotel. Pure Nitrous Oxide (gas administered) when required.

NOTICE

I WILL BE IN STANFORD TWO WEEKS of each month, from 1st Monday, and to Lancastre two weeks of each month, from 3rd Monday, in December, January, February, and March.
Office in St. Asaph Hotel, over Mattingly & Son's store. (See 400-177)

R. C. MORGAN, D. D. S.

GEORGE W. BOBBITT,

CONSTABLE,

STANFORD, KY.

All business entrusted to him promptly and carefully attended to. (440-177)

FARM FOR SALE.

I offer for sale my farm, consisting of
ONE HUNDRED ACRES, lying on the Oak Orchard pike 2½ miles from the best of all classes of work in my line, and the farm is well watered. Call and see.
T. S. PARKER.

CARRIAGES & BUGGIES.

Having formed a partnership with LESLIE HOLMES,

NOTICE!

Owing to the fact that the Editor has been called to Virginia, on business connected with the settlement of his father's estate the publication of the Semi-Weekly Interior Journal has been postponed about two weeks. This gives you another chance to secure two papers a week for the price of one, as our previous offer to credit those who pay $2 in advance now, with one year's subscription of the Semi-Weekly Interior Journal, will remain good until the first issue. You will save from 50 cents to $1 by paying now.

LOCAL NOTICES.

New and full stock of Clocks at Penny & McAllister's.

Books on Faith Cures for sale by McAllister & Bright.

Watches and Jewelry repaired and warranted by Penny & McAllister.

MADEIRA DEMONSTRATION Fall style Patterns for sale at McAllister & Bright's.

For medicinal purposes buy a bottle of 10-year-old Whisky from McAllister & Bright.

A splendid line of Toilet Soaps and Perfumery, very cheap, at Penny & McAllister's.

A large stock of Jewelry, Watches and Silverware, at less than city prices, at Penny & McAllister's.

LOCAL BLANKS of all kinds for sale at Penny & McAllister's.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL Office. Clerks, Sheriffs, Magistrates and Constables will save money by giving us an order.

ATTENTION HUNTERS!—McAllister & Bright have just received the largest and most complete stock of breech and muzzle-loading Shot-guns, Game-lags, Shot-Pouches, Powder Flasks, New York Drop and Chilled Shot, and implements for loading and re-loading breech-loading guns, and will sell them at bottom prices.

PERSONAL.

—Dr. N. K. WEAVER, of Louisville, is visiting his relatives here.

—Col. T. W. YARSON, went to Louisville Wednesday.

—Mr. E. K. WEAVER, of Louisville, is visiting his relatives here.

—Mr. J. H. DUNN, of Louisville, is in our office Monday.

—Misses N. K. WEAVER and Florence Tinsley, are visiting in Lancaster.

—On correspondence, Rev. J. A. Hays and C. B. Engleman called on us Tuesday.

—Mr. A. D. DUNN, a letter from Louisville, Ill., to be gone about two months.

—Mr. HENRY BURTON returned Tuesday, from Louisville, where he has been to buy goods.

—Mr. W. DUNN, of Lancaster, an old and valued patron of ours, was in Stanford Tuesday.

—Mr. SAMUEL C. THURMOND and family, of Horse Cave, who have been visiting relatives in this vicinity, returned home yesterday.

—Misses L. A. and M. L. COOK, of Lexington, and Miss Emma COOK and Mrs. D. L. COOK, of Lancaster, were guests of Mrs. N. K. WEAVER, the first of this week.

—W. E. YARSON, Esq., returned Monday night from a business trip to Louisville.

—The men who compose the present Legislature are for the most part a very common-looking lot of men.

—A woman the father from a distance who attended the rink Friday night was Miss Ann and Nellie Cook of Horse Cave, Misses Lillian Harrison and Nellie Lillard, Danville; Miss Kate Hays, Lexington; and Miss Emma White, of Manchester.

—Mr. E. K. WEAVER, now of London, was here several days this week. He tells us that he is doing a thriving business, his sales in one day amounting to about $100. Besides his mercantile business, he has control of three shares of the Kentucky Coal and Coke Co.

—On a slightly correspondent at Somerset, Mr. W. A. MURPHY, was here last Tuesday night, local author by an insight of a pair of black eyes over his unbecoming woman's head. He says that he felt, but seemed to enjoy himself in a fair fight, much more than those who did.

LOCAL MATTERS.

COUNTY COURT next Monday.

Big time at the Rink to-night. Come, everybody.

CALL and see Hale & Nunnally's big line of saddlery.

McAllister & Bright have received New Orleans Syrup and Sugar—new crop.

Another lot of clocks and dollmats received yesterday by Severance, Dudderar & Co.

MARK McPHERSON, who was seriously shot some weeks since has sufficiently recovered to be out again.

MATTINGLY, McAllister & Co., will commence grinding corn for customers at their new mill on Monday next.

Read the notice at the head of this page and take advantage at once of its liberal offer. "Money saved is money made."

JERRY COAT, colored, was tried before Judge Brown this week, on a charge of stealing a hog from James K. Helm, and sent on for further trial.

THE ladies of the Presbyterian church have decided to have their supper in one of Owsley & Son's new store-rooms, on Friday night, the 23rd of this month.

PETER HAMTON will retain the agency of the Singer Sewing Machine and machines and all the attachments can be found at his new saddlery store, opposite Myers House.

DON't forget the Mass Meeting to be held here next Monday to select delegates to the State Convention at Frankfort, to nominate a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

Hung—Hung—Bell! Puss is in the well!

J. and J. Winter & Co. are always in their elegant Men's and Boy's Clothing establishment ready to sell to their customers any style of goods in their line of business. It would be well to give them a call before going elsewhere. They are never too busy to be polite and attentive.

THE Skating Rink Club will have a grand Masquerade on the night of the 23d. No one without a mask will be allowed on the floor from the opening to 10 o'clock, at which hour masks will be abandoned, and then all will have a chance to skate. On the 30th they will give a Tournament, at which three prizes will be offered.

PINK COFFEE SOLD.—Mr. James M. Wray, of Bloomington, Illinois, but formerly, and for many years a resident of this county, has purchased Pink Cottage for $2,500, the amount of the mortgage. He will come to take possession in a very few days. The cottage is now vacant, several patients having left the infirmary.

We learn that several other persons had expected to visit it this week, but were advised of its sale and will not come. Mr. Harris will, perhaps, receive a few patients at her own home in town after this time.

THE first maple syrup of the season at McAllister & Bright's.

The best cigars in town at Hale & Nunnally's. Two for five cents.

Bird Stock New Orleans sugar just received at Hale & Nunnally's.

HIGHEST market price paid for all kinds of country produce. McAllister & Bright.

HALE & NUNNALLY want all kinds of Dried Fruit at the highest market prices.

FIFTY cases of Can Goods, of every variety, just received by Hale & Nunnally.

Col. ISAAC SHELLEY writes us that he has found the horse that he advertised in last week's paper.

Go to W. H. Higgins, for fresh raisins, citrons, cranberries, currants, home-made mince-cakes, candies, nuts, etc.

We failed to mention the following sales of property which were made a week or two ago: (1) Gale Roney bought of W. H. Anderson, his house and lot in the lower end of town for $800. D. B. Edmonston bought of Henry Baughman, the house and lot adjoining Mr. Severance, for $1,200.

THERE are about half a dozen applicants for the post-office at Danville, among whom is Mrs. Jennie M. Murphy, wife of Mr. Murphy, editor of the Tribune. The Advertiser thinks she stands a good chance for the appointment, as her husband is a personal friend and army comrade of Frank Hays, who is First Assistant Postmaster General.

OLD PAPERS.—Mr. C. B. Engleman has shown us a copy of the Kentucky Tribune, published at Danville, June 23, 1854, by John F. Zimmerman & Son, and another copy of same, issued Jan. 4, 1856. The latter contains the message of Gov. C. S. Morehead, and extracts from that of President Franklin Pierce. On those days it took about a month to get news from the Old World, their accounts of the Russian war, then in progress, being dated December 7th. The advertising patronage is very large, there being about 18 columns out of the 23 devoted to them. The printing exceeds that of a majority of the papers of the present day, although done on a hand-press, as evidenced by a picture of one printed at the head of the editorial column.

RINK NOTES.—The interest in roller-skating is evidently becoming colossal. Large and fashionable audiences congregate at the rink every Friday evening.

The young gentlemen in charge of the rink seem untiring in their efforts to render the meetings pleasant and enjoyable to all present. The strongest proofs of the popularity of the institution is the regular attendance every Friday night, not only of our own young folks, but the large numbers of visitors from neighboring towns.

Among the gentlemen that have appeared upon the floor, Messrs. Samuels and Vaughn, of Danville, and Humphill, of Lancaster, are by far the most dextrous and graceful. The ease and grace with which they executed the various difficult evolutions of roller-skating, won for them the admiration of all present.

The efforts of some of our less experienced boys to imitate them, have more than once proved quite disastrous. T. P. Hill, Jr., a young legal luminary, complained to me of a leg that he had broken in a fall, and a young fellow named Smith, who was also a legal luminary, was also injured.

Mr. E. K. WEAVER, now of London, was here several days this week. He tells us that he is doing a thriving business, his sales in one day amounting to about $100. Besides his mercantile business, he has control of three shares of the Kentucky Coal and Coke Co.

On a slightly correspondent at Somerset, Mr. W. A. MURPHY, was here last Tuesday night, local author by an insight of a pair of black eyes over his unbecoming woman's head. He says that he felt, but seemed to enjoy himself in a fair fight, much more than those who did.

LOCAL MATTERS.

COUNTY COURT next Monday.

Big time at the Rink to-night. Come, everybody.

CALL and see Hale & Nunnally's big line of saddlery.

McAllister & Bright have received New Orleans Syrup and Sugar—new crop.

Another lot of clocks and dollmats received yesterday by Severance, Dudderar & Co.

MARK McPHERSON, who was seriously shot some weeks since has sufficiently recovered to be out again.

MATTINGLY, McAllister & Co., will commence grinding corn for customers at their new mill on Monday next.

Read the notice at the head of this page and take advantage at once of its liberal offer. "Money saved is money made."

JERRY COAT, colored, was tried before Judge Brown this week, on a charge of stealing a hog from James K. Helm, and sent on for further trial.

THE ladies of the Presbyterian church have decided to have their supper in one of Owsley & Son's new store-rooms, on Friday night, the 23rd of this month.

PETER HAMTON will retain the agency of the Singer Sewing Machine and machines and all the attachments can be found at his new saddlery store, opposite Myers House.

DON't forget the Mass Meeting to be held here next Monday to select delegates to the State Convention at Frankfort, to nominate a candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

Hung—Hung—Bell! Puss is in the well!

J. and J. Winter & Co. are always in their elegant Men's and Boy's Clothing establishment ready to sell to their customers any style of goods in their line of business. It would be well to give them a call before going elsewhere. They are never too busy to be polite and attentive.

THE Skating Rink Club will have a grand Masquerade on the night of the 23d. No one without a mask will be allowed on the floor from the opening to 10 o'clock, at which hour masks will be abandoned, and then all will have a chance to skate. On the 30th they will give a Tournament, at which three prizes will be offered.

PINK COFFEE SOLD.—Mr. James M. Wray, of Bloomington, Illinois, but formerly, and for many years a resident of this county, has purchased Pink Cottage for $2,500, the amount of the mortgage. He will come to take possession in a very few days. The cottage is now vacant, several patients having left the infirmary.

We learn that several other persons had expected to visit it this week, but were advised of its sale and will not come. Mr. Harris will, perhaps, receive a few patients at her own home in town after this time.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, and Miss Lena H. Covington, of Bowling Green, were married here at 6 o'clock, in Christ Episcopal church, Rev. George Rogers, of Washington Court-house, Ohio, formerly the pastor of the church in which the ceremony occurred, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Dr. Albert Covington, of this city. For an hour before the time fixed for the ceremony the doors of the church were besieged by the friends of the contracting parties, eager for admission. When the doors were finally opened a very vast and almost instantly filled the church proving altogether inadequate to accommodate the throng, and the crowd extended beyond the entrance in long lines along the pavements and approaches. The attendants were John C. Russell, Arthur M. Rutledge and C. E. Kincaid, of Louisville; Nat. C. Porter and R. Wells Covington, of Bowling Green, and G. C. Matthews, of Indianapolis. The brides were handsomely attired in costumes of white satin and Spanish lace. The ceremony was performed without the slightest embarrassment and everything passed off as happily as possible. Subsequent to the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of Dr. Covington, where the relatives and guests from abroad only were entertained. A most elegant and hospitable collation was an incident of the reception. The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan came from the quarters of the earth and were of the most costly value, and attested by their number the countless host of their friends and well-wishers. A more auspicious marriage could not be conceived. The day and evening were simply perfect, the sun coming out as bright and warm as the congratulatory and blessings of the friends of the parties were sincere and cheering. The high esteem for the grooms throughout the State, and the affection in which the Misses Covington were held by all who knew them, was evinced in every possible way, and each couple begins the new life amid surroundings full of promise. At 9 o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Dulaney and Mr. and Mrs. Logan left the city for an extended tour in the Northwest, going immediately to St. Louis.

—BOWLING GREEN, KY., Nov. 30.—Emmett G. Logan,

